Dear Parent/Carer

You will be aware from last week's email that there was a concern about holding our Induction Day on the 14th July. Sadly, we have been advised that this cannot happen. I know this is very disappointing for everyone. We were in the same position last year, but the students coped surprisingly well. Instead, our Induction Day will now be on Friday 3rd September. There will be no other students onsite on that day and they will have a very big focus on getting to know the school and especially getting to know the other students in their form.

Mr Dunn (Head of Year 7) and Mrs Galloway (Pastoral Support Assistant) will be visiting the majority of primary schools during the week beginning 5th July. They will be providing a detailed presentation about life at Imberhorne School, but will also be able to answer questions and reassure students.

There will be virtual form meetings with their new form groups and tutors on Monday 19th July between 3.30 and 5pm. Once the form groups have been allocated, you will receive a link and time for the meeting. The details will be emailed on Friday 9th July.

In order for our form tutors to get to know their students better we have set a transition task. Please click on the link below to view the "All About Me" task.

There is a choice of activities that they can try. It would be lovely if you could have a look at this together. This activity has been shared with Year 6 teachers so they may discuss this in their primary schools. Work can be photographed if that is easier. The address to return the work to is: aboutme@imberhorne.co.uk

Please can the activity be submitted to Imberhorne school by Monday 12th July to give the tutors time to read them.

Lastly, please follow the link below to a short introductory video from myself:
